

Switzerland for WOC 2023

© Gaudenz Damber

“What a motivation to perform at top-level in a home WOC.”

Simona Aebersold

Flims
Switzerland

Switzerland: reliable organizer of top-class events

Swiss Orienteering has carried out all kind of IOF high-level events and is a very experienced organizer:

- » World Championships 2012 in the Olympic city of Lausanne
- » European Championships 2018 in Ticino
- » JWOC 2016 in the well-known Engadine valley with live TV coverage
- » Annual World Cup Finals in the last 10 years: Well known for its terrific atmosphere and the unique promotion.

The IOF believes in the long tradition of organising top-quality events – Switzerland is a designated partner of the new World Cup which shall be implemented in the next years.

Host region Flims

WOC 2023 in Switzerland would take place in the tourist region of Flims. Not only is Flims famous for its fantastic views, sites and opportunities, but it also offers one of the best orienteering terrains in Switzerland formed by a landslide 10 000 years ago.

Flims hosted the Swiss-O-Week 2011 with 3500 competitors from 30 nations and is ready for new challenges. In 2023, WOC will be combined with the Swiss-O-Week.

WOC 2023 – a unique opportunity

The Swiss Orienteering Federation is keen to offer a memorable orienteering week with exciting competitions and is preparing the bid based on

- » an attractive set-up for the WOC competitions
- » a large range of fantastic and various terrains for the competitions, all reachable directly from Flims within short time
- » a host region offering accommodation and infrastructure to match every budget
- » making Orienteering visible at the arena and on TV with new technologies
- » combine watching the world's elite, running in the same terrains at Swiss-O-Week 2023 and enjoying holidays in an attractive tourist destination.

swiss orienteering

Welcome to Switzerland 2023

“I am convinced that the world-champions-to-be in WOC 2023 in Flims will experience the same amazing atmosphere as I did in Lausanne 2012.”

Matthias Kyburz

Have a good time in Flims!

Our concept guarantees high level orienteering for the athletes in WOC and Swiss-O-Week. For the spectators in the arena, online, in TV, for media and guests we will make the excitement of the WOC competitions come alive with the implementation of new technologies.